

QUESTIONS ABOUT TREATING A PATIENT'S MENTAL HEALTH?

The UW Psychiatry Consultation Line helps eligible providers in Washington who want clinical advice regarding patients (18+) with mental health and/or substance use disorders.

How does it work?

- › Call 877-WA-PSYCH (877-927-7924)
- › Complete a brief intake
- › Consult with a UW psychiatrist
- › Receive written documentation of recommendations

8 AM-5 PM weekdays

24/7 coverage begins July 1, 2020

Who can call?

Prescribing health care providers in Washington state from

- › Primary care clinics
- › Community hospitals and emergency departments
- › County and municipal correctional facilities

Why would I call?

You have questions about

- › Assessment and diagnosis
- › Treatment planning, including medication management or other treatments

W UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON
PSYCHIATRY & BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES
School of Medicine

Washington State
Health Care Authority

Call the UW Psychiatry Consultation Line.

Free, fast, on-demand consultations connecting prescribing providers to psychiatrists at the University of Washington.

877.WA.PSYCH (877-927-7924) PCLWA@UW.EDU

Providers with patients under 18 will be directed to the Partnership Access Line (PAL); providers caring for pregnant or new moms will be directed to the PAL for Moms line. The UW Psychiatry Consultation Line is funded by the Washington State Legislature.